Looking at the track list you can see that this is the very best of Death Row. The bonus track by Petey Pablo & Kurupt is the only previously unreleased track on the album.

Although it is a newer recording, and not really from the period of the other tracks; still it fits right into Tha Row sound and that great west coast mind set.

When you read the cover you see the greats of Death Row's production. Names like Hurt M. Badd, Daz, Dr. Dre, Warren G, and DJ Pooh and you wonder where the good old days are and why they apparently are gone. But then you get hit with the Petey Pablo and Kurupt track and you are assured that the west sound is alive at Suge Knights Death Row Records.

'Suge' Knight is the executive producer taking charge to make sure the west is represented by the very best.

This is a great album and one that you should get for those new to hip-hop and rap or for those who were not fortunate enough to get these the first time around. A great mix of tracks and a great representation of the legendary Death Row Legacy.

Support the west coast and Death Row – Buy it don't burn it.

The track listing is:

1. "Against All Odds": Tupac
2. "California Love (remix)": Tupac feat. Dr. Dre & Roger Troutman
