Today's hottest Hip Hop & Rock Artists will perform exclusively for 3,000 Youth Volunteers at the Boost Mobile RockCorps Concert Saturday, June 9th at 8:00 pm at the Fox Theatre: 660 Peachtree Street NE, at Ponce de Leon NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30308.

3,000 Boost Mobile RockCorps Volunteers earn opportunity to see exclusive concert featuring hip hop notables Busta Rhymes, Young Jeezy, Rick Ross, female hip hop artist Eve. Rich Boy, Lil Wayne, with host Nick Cannon and more.

Boost Mobile RockCorps (BMRC), the national youth volunteerism movement that has motivated more than 19,000 young people to get involved and help their communities, today announced that hip hop recording artists Busta Rhymes, Young Jeezy, Rick Ross, Eve, Rich Boy, Lil Wayne and host Nick Cannon are to perform at this year's concert series with the second-annual BMRC concert in Atlanta. The concert will reward 3,000 hard-working local youth who have volunteered four hours of community service through BMRC to earn tickets to this ultra-exclusive event.

RockCorps, an organization harnessing the power of music to inspire volunteerism, and Boost Mobile, a wireless telecommunications brand dedicated to boosting the lives of today's youth, continue their highly successful partnership for the third year in a row. BMRC exposes young people to simple and fun ways they can proactively contribute to their neighborhoods and positively transform society. Combining the power of music, community and volunteerism, Boost Mobile RockCorps will offer entrance to the year's most popular concerts for which the only way in is to earn tickets by contributing four hours of volunteer service. BMRC concerts will be concluding in New York City on October 6.
