Down south Atlanta hip-hop artist Bone Crusher, aka Wayne Hardnett, releases his new LP entitled 'Release The Beast' this quarter.

The LP is being released on 845 Entertainment/Bodyhead and will feature Bone Crusher's hot new single "Southern Gorillas".

In addition to making smash records, this year marks hip-hop artist Bone Crusher's debut on both the big and small screen. The hip-hop artist was featured in the hit movie 'ATL' and in July of 2006 he will star in Celebrity Fit Club 4, one of the highest rated shows on music network VH1.

Super down south hip-hop artist Bone Crusher's 2003 debut, AttenCHUN!, garnered public attention for his powerful lyrical delivery and its hit single, "Never Scared," which became an instant hip-hop club smash.

Before making it big out on his own, Bone Crusher was a part of the Lyrical Giants, a hip-hop crew that worked with hip-hop favorites rap artist Too Short and Erick Sermon and whose other members—Baby B and Bizar—both appear on Crusher's debut album.

With a packed schedule and 'Release The Beast' about to drop, expect big things to come from Bone Crusher in 2006 and beyond.

Bone Crusher releases album on Roy Jones Jr's record label, 845/Body Head this summer.
