

Member of Hip-Hop Quartet Arrested in Drug Raid

Written by Robert ID2726

Wednesday, 14 June 2006 02:51 -

A member of the Hip-hop quartet DEM FRANCHIZE BOYZ, who represent the Westside of Atlanta, was one of eight people arrested in a raid on the hip-hop / rap label Making Big Moves Records recording studio.

Atlanta police officials have confirmed eight people were arrested at the hip-hop recording studio. Police had received a tip that drugs were being sold out of the studio and when the raid was conducted drugs, weapons and $150,000 in cash were found.

Also arrested in the raid was Anthony Blalock, CEO of the hip-hop rap label Making Big Moves Records.

The other names of those arrested have not been released yet.