The Los Lonely Boys are made up of the three remarkable Garza brothers: Henry on guitar, Jojo on bass, and Ringo on drums. This trio of brothers has been making music together since they were small children and now they have a decade of professional experience under their belts, as well as a huge dedicated fan base that crosses every music genre.

The Los Lonely Boys write, sing, and play music drawn from diverse sources, blending their influences into a seamless style. Weaned on Tex-Mex, country, blues, and rock pioneers like Richie Valens, Chuck Berry and Fats Domino, and such pop music giants as The Beatles. The Los Lonely Boys expand those solid basics with red-hot guitar playing, percolating rock and Latin rhythms, and dynamic interplay and luscious vocal harmonies, as all three brothers also sing, to produce songs widespread with engaging hooks, expressive lyrics, and melodic sumptuousness.

The trio of brothers lit up the New York stage with their “Texican brand” of rock and roll, exclusively for Network LIVE. The Los Lonely Boys certainly left their mark on NYC with songs from their new album ‘Sacred’ which hits stores July 18th.

The Los Lonely Boys closed the show with fans singing along and dancing to an encore performance of their hit song “Heaven.” Watch the live performance exclusively on AOL Music Friday, July 14th starting at 6am EST.
