Young Jeezy Returns from the Block with 'Inspiration'

After his highly successful debut hip hop album "Thug Motivation 101," Young Jeezy is prepared to storm onto the scene once again with his new album "The Inspiration - Thug Motivation 102". Jeezy, also known among hip hop culture as 'The Snowman' has been hard at work in the studio, doing shows, and promoting his upcoming album. He recently had a highlight at the first annual BET Hip Hop Awards, where he performed a couple sets in his hometown of Atlanta. He was also a guest performer at the VH1 Hip Hop Honors where along side hip hop and rap notables Lil Easy E, and Bone thugs, he paid tribute to fallen West Coast gangster rap and hip hop pioneer Easy E.

With his new single "I luv it" tearing up the airwaves, Jeezy is set for another successful release December 12th when "The Inspiration" hits shelves. Be prepared for a laid back, gritty, and inspirational album with major features and top notch production. It should be a stand out album to end out the year.

Although Jeezy has never impressed me lyrically, it's not always tongue twisting metaphors and wordplay that make the most impact on a listener.

What's better than motivation?...Inspiration! That's what Jeezy intends to bring with this album. He is said to have recorded close to 100 songs for the album. With that type of work ethic, it's easy to see why Jeezy went double platinum on his first release.
