

Hip Hop Duo Ying Yang Twins Split from 'Mr Collipark

Written by Robert ID3267

Monday, 29 January 2007 23:21 -

---

Just after the release of their new album entitled Chemically Imbalanced, the hip hop duo Ying Yang Twins are announcing their recent departure from longtime producer, Michael "Mr. Collipark" Crooms.

The break up stems from the creative differences between Mr. Collipark and the hip hop duo Ying Yang Twins. The Ying Yang Twins have a desire for personal growth and it is time for them to step out into the industry as an independent movement.

The hip hop duo (Ying Yang Twins) began their national tour with Da Muzicianz on January 24, 2007 in efforts to promote the release of their new album entitled Chemically Imbalanced. The first two singles to be released from the album include the Hall & Oates-sampling "Dangerous", featuring hip hop rap artist Wyclef Jean, and the original hit single "Jigglin".

With their newfangled existence, the Ying Yang Twins will bring a fresh, new approach to branding their product to the universal market. New projects expected from the Ying Yang Twins include pursuing other avenues such as cartoons, movie roles, movie soundtracks, individual record labels, and real estate.

The Ying Yang Twins are an Atlanta-based hip hop, crunk rap duo consisting of Kaine (born Eric Jackson on December 16, 1978) and D-Roc (born D"Angelo Holmes on February 13, 1979). They first came to notice in 2000 with the single "Whistle While You Twurk" which got play on urban and pop radio stations and peaked at #16 on the US R&B/Hip-Hop chart. Throughout their career, the Ying Yang Twins have had a total of 5 platinum albums and a Grammy Nomination.