

BMP To Release 2Pac In The Studio

Written by Westside ID79

Monday, 27 September 2004 17:04 -

Black Market Publishing has begun research on the first ever study of rap legend Tupac in the recording studio. Considered a study of his amazingly prolific artistic craft, this book will feature interviews with many of the producers who worked with the late rap icon to create the massive collection of living and post-humous material which has composed the 14 albums released by the rapper and his estate since 1991.

Offering fans for the first time ever an intimate insight into Tupac's recording methods, incredible work ethic, and cutting-edge, creative brilliance, "2PAC In the Studio" should prove to be a must-have for any of his fans, and for hip hop fans world-wide.

We will keep you up to date on this one. It is Schedule for Release, Summer, 2005.

Source: BlackMarketPub