Cassandra Muhammad author of 'Poetry with a Passion' is an amazing poet. Her book 'Poetry With A Passion' is about life. It is a book about love, relationships, children, success, spirituality, and much more. The reader is sure to be uplifted after reading her book as her poetry touches your soul.

"I am a spiritual person who believes in a higher power, I believe in one God, one People. We have to have unity and love for one another if we plan to live the next 100 years. Armageddon is right around the corner for the evil doers. I believe in peace and not war. God is giving us warning signs everyday. The world right now has just about every plague in the scriptures because we as a people continue to do evil. My biggest goal right now is to make a better life for my family. We plan to go home to our roots (Africa) and live like the Queens and Kings that we are. I want to live in a country where I am accepted for who I am and treated like the Goddess that I am. There is a group of people that love to tell another group of people to go back to Africa. Well don't be disappointed if you look up one hot day and all of you ex-slaves are gone. I don't want to be in modern day Babylon when all hell breaks loose," says Cassandra Muhammad.

Visiting her MySpace page you can get a real look at who this amazing lady is and her words can make the reader think and grow thru her insight.

Being as Cassandra Muhammad loves hip-hop and rap; she has a 'tribute poem' for Tupac Shakur (2Pac) on her site that has got much feedback, as Tupac (2Pac) is truly misunderstood by many in the mainstream world. She writes:

'Tupac' - A Black King Who had a message

Tupac made strong rap music about our heritage.

He came to this earth, at birth to bring knowledge.

Gave the youth the truth and revelation, to uplift us out of this wicked habitation.

Tupac did not die in vain, his memory brings us Joy and not pain.

Tupacs vibration will live on through generations God bless him for our liberation
