ProHipHop (prohiphop.com), the first hip hop industry weblog and a leading music industry website, is holding a Hip Hop Domain Auction on Ebay opening Wednesday, October 25th at Noon (EST) and closing Saturday, November 4th at Noon (EST). The hip hop domains on offer are solid values for immediate or future use at a time when great domains are already few and far between.

Regarding the auction, ProHipHop owner/blogger Clyde Smith states, "Some of those domains are pretty sweet but it's time to let them go. Think of it as a gesture of goodwill from someone who could use a little cash for business development and dig deep as we enter the holiday season!"

Asked if he would miss such domains as DefBusiness.com, Clyde noted, "I did want to save that one for my biography of Russell Simmons. But somehow I have a feeling that's a book I won't write."

The domains to be auctioned:

DefBusiness.com

HipHopResearch.com/net/org

RapBarrio.com

BarrioRap.com

HipHopRhythm.com
