

Kurupt Has a New Movie

Written by Robert ID615

Monday, 27 December 2004 01:44 -

Kurupt

Golden Globe nominee David Carradine and west coast Death Row Records rapper Kurupt are set to star in "Click," an urban Western set at the end of the Civil War.

The indie film follows a group of outlaws out to rob the town bank in a lawless land. They run into trouble when a scheming cattle baron, a bounty hunter and a female sheriff stand in their way. Jean-Claude La Marre ("Gang of Roses") will direct.

Notwithstanding its period setting, "Click" will feature a hip-hop-driven soundtrack that will include original songs from rapper Kurupt, who rose to fame as a member of chart-topping rap duo Tha Dogg Pound. On the big screen, he starred in the 2002 cop drama "Dark Blue," opposite Kurt Russell.

Kurupt is currently signed to Suge Knight's Death Row Records.