In addition to his show on Sirius Satellite Radio, C. Truth also hosts Thermal SoundWaves on WHCR (90.3 FM) in NYC. Established in 1995, this inventive and vibrant weekly program has striven to give all its listeners thought provoking commentary on world topics and music. Variety is embraced during this live 3 hour show with a music selection of Hip-Hop, R&B, Soul, and Reggae. Thermal SoundWaves avant-garde play list unveils songs that would not be heard on mainstream radio shows & stations, but has definite public interest.

C. Truth maintains balance on Thermal SoundWaves by addressing social issues and occurrences that concern the urban community. Both signed and unsigned artists are interviewed on the show and listeners are always encouraged to voice their opinions by calling, emailing and writing in. Dubbed "The Natural Alternative to Fast Food Radio," Thermal SoundWaves provides your daily nutrients of music, culture, and politics, all with an underlying soundtrack of timeless Hip-Hop. Thermal SoundWaves is now one of the longest running underground hip hop shows in NYC.
