Tommy Danger isn't a comedian but one may think so after watching an episode on Danger Vision. Within three years they have recorded over 118 episodes and narrowed it down to 6. Here's a little run down on the DVD. On one clip Tommy will have you in tears as he shares his first sexual experience, which wasn't pretty or romantic, but rather messy and it lasted all of two minutes. The Hip Hop artist Liaison and the M.I.E.R.S Family dropped some verses showing why they hot straight out of Coney Island. Now I know you've seen the G's everywhere but not like this. Gino Green Global held nothing back as they gave us a sneak peak into their collection that has the streets on smash. No viewer tells a lesbian threesome episode better than Bonnie Blazin. She tells how she banged not one but two chicks, wow, who would of known it could last that long. Not many can say they toured and DJ'd for one of the hottest females in the game, Remy Martin except DJ Bedtyme 357. He's still so humble as he explains how he does it all with Mixtapes, being a DJ and a Radio Host. Many artists search for that one hot beat that they can lay their lyrics to, but who does it better than Producer 45 Crummie Beats. Many make beats but very few make music that brings lyrics to life when it's all put together. So stay tuned to meet the man behind the music. Of course, Tommy Danger had to close it out with his hit song and mini movie "Rush" thats blowing up in Cyberspace. In this action packed mini movie Tommy Danger plays the "Hand" as he gets a hacker to transfer funds into his account, and he's brought in enforcers to get it done.

With many DVD's boasting thongs and bullets, Danger Vision is pure entertainment with over 1,000,000 viewers on Manhattan Neighborhood Network. Danger Vision "It's Hip Hop and Everyday Life". Release date is Summer 2007 on DNA.TV.
