

Public Enemy Gearing Up For 2005

Written by Robert ID801

Monday, 31 January 2005 10:30 -

The super icon hip-hop rap group Public Enemy is gearing up for a hectic archived 2005 and beyond.

To make a long story short there's a bit of a heavy release schedule on the Public Enemy schedule.

Many distributors are spreading the brand such as 'The World Tour Sessions', an album of live excerpts 1987-2002 coming thru KOCH.

The 'Power To The People And The Beats and Videos' cd and dvd respectively through Universal.

And the 'It Takes A Nation, London Invasion 1987' a concert-documentary covering the groups first entrance to the UK back on November 1st 1987 at Hammersmith Odeon London. In fact a bonus cd of the entire show will be released with the package.

Many will recognize that concert in excerpts used on 'It Takes A Nation Of Millions To Hold Us Back'.

Some classic material coming in the form of deluxe editions thru Universal of "Nations" called Soul Of A Nation and Fear called "Afraid Of The Dark" a title unused for a previous Public Enemy album. The 2 disc set will consist of a re-mastered cd of original album alongside a separate disc of outtakes, remixes, and live versions.

This has been a great running series by Universal, previously releasing the likes of Bob Marley, Marvin Gaye albums.

Public Enemy Gearing Up For 2005

Written by Robert ID801

Monday, 31 January 2005 10:30 -

The idea will be to lead these albums straight into the Public Enemy boxset coming around late 2006-2007 just in time for Public Enemys 20th Anniversary.

Visit Public Enemy's web site for all the latest information on all their upcoming releases - [HER
E](#)