

MC Eiht Releases Veterans Day Today Sept28th

Written by Westside ID77

Monday, 27 September 2004 13:21 -

You have seen the interview with Eiht, and we talked about the album; well

The long awaited album from west coast rap legend MC Eiht drops today, Sept. 28th.

Veterans Day shows all Eiht's strengths and only enforces his title as a real legend in the rap and hip-hop community. Not only does MC Eiht have longevity in the business he also has longevity in the streets. The streets have love for Eiht and this album will show you why.

Eiht comes ready with strong steady flows and some of those ol skool-feeling beats from Chill. This album is a must have for those of you who are into west coast gangsta rap. But also it has a great ol skool feel to it that many will find a great change from what we are being offered today.

If you know of Eiht I know you will have to get this. If you are not so familiar with MC Eiht and his work, give him a listen. You don't stay in the record business if your not talented and Eiht has been cutting wax on the west coast longer than Snoop.

Check this one out or it will really be your loss. A full track list and album art are posted in the releases.