The debut EP by Tehran-Canadian hip-hop rap emcee Imaan Faith and Sikh-Indian producer Raoul Juneja (a.k.a. Deejay Ra), "You Got A Choice", has been initially released online through an independent alliance between Juneja's Lyrical Knockout Entertainment, Imaan's GUTS Records and the Vancouver based MixtapeMP3.com distribution imprint.

Unprecedented, full profits are being donated to the Nelson Mandela Children's Fund Canada (NMCF), who arranged for the EP to feature an exclusive President Mandela speech at Toronto's SkyDome in addition to Imaan's acclaimed "Aids Awareness" rap song and radio PSA.

"Mandela at SkyDome", an original documentary produced by the NMCF about the assembling of 40,000 Canadian students for Mandela's 1998 launch of his Fund's Canada branch, is also being released next year on DVD by Juneja's Lyrical Knockout Entertainment to raise donations for the Fund, coinciding with rap artist Imaan's early 2006 in-store EP placement.
