

Virtual Hip-Hop Music Studio

Written by Robert ID2138

Tuesday, 22 November 2005 11:10 -

Good news for those wanting to try your hand at making your own hip-hop beats. There is a new tool for aspiring hip-hop and rap artist, and up and coming hip-hop producers that makes hip-hop beat making easier than ever before.

Hip Hop eJay 6, is a drag-and-drop music creation studio that makes it possible to lay down star-quality tracks on your PC even if you don't know an echo from a reverb.

This latest installment of the eJay series delivers 5,000 brand new royalty-free professional sound clips, an integrated CD burner for burning your masterpieces directly onto CD, and more.

Just grab your mouse and choose your weapons: clips, drum loops, scratch, whatever style of hip-hop beat your feeling.

In addition to the huge library of all-new clips, loops and beats from hip-hop and rap to scratch, Hip Hop 6 provides five virtual instruments with more music-making power than ever, an assortment of effects, and the ability to record your own rhymes and add additional sounds, effects and instruments from any source. Assemble it all on a completely redesigned interface that lets you build, arrange and edit your hip-hop beats or tunes quickly and easily.

Hip Hop 6 also includes:

- A new DJ deck that can quickly create scratches from supplied or custom sounds
- A new multi-track drum machine that lets you create your own beats and loops
- A new bass synthesizer for producing kick-butt bass melodies
- A new polyphonic synthesizer for allowing cord pattern creation

Virtual Hip-Hop Music Studio

Written by Robert ID2138

Tuesday, 22 November 2005 11:10 -

- More audio effects, including echo, chorus, reverb, compressor, distortion, etc.
- A new sample loop player that lets you import sounds directly from CD or any device connected to a soundcard without closing the program
- Non-destructive audio editing that keeps your files safe from changes
- Volume and pan curves for each track
- Unlimited import and export of WAV files
- An equalizer for fine-tuning your sound

HipHop eJay 6 is available at Circuit City, GameStop and other retailers as well as www.digitall leisure.com for a relatively low street friendly cost.

HipHop eJay 6 was developed by Checkmate Solutions for Empire Interactive, a UK-based publisher of interactive entertainment software, and is distributed in North America by Digital Leisure, a publisher and distributor of interactive DVD and CD games. For more information, visit www.ejay.com .