EX-Death Row Records rapper Crooked I is now reportedly working on a DVD documentary titled "Leaving Death Row" According to Crooked I, Death Row and Suge Knight have prevented him from releasing his album due to contractual obligations with the label.

The DVD is reported to focus on various artists that have been on Death Row and will include the likes of Master P, Russell Simmons and one of the first artist to leave Death Row RBX. Crooked I stated that the DVD is more about leaving "a state of mind" than a label and cites the 4 years he spent on the label

Shortly after deciding he would leave Death Row, Crooked I's label, Dynasty inked a deal with another label Treacherous. Treacherous has a distribution deal through Universal..

Crooked I says "They're (Treacherous) distributing my label through their distribution deal with Universal, so I have the greatest deal of a lifetime. I'm in here making what a person should make off their album with all the distribution in the world and legally they can't do anything because of this (cease and desist) order (Suge Knight's lawyers have sent).
