The April edition of the Source magazine called him the 'next biggest name in hip-hop'.

He has been in XXL magazine, has been showed love from the east to the west coasts and everywhere in-between; and now his long awaited debut album 'Still Hustlin'" is being released today May 17th.

Renegade Foxxx is certainly a new force to be reckoned with in hip- hop and rap. His style is not only overwhelming but he is truly a 'likeable' dude.

His album 'Still Hustlin' shows his Alabama roots as it is heavy in the southern influence. Tracks with rap artists Bone Crusher and Pitbull are already banging thru the airwaves and people can't seem to get enough.

The album also has tracks with Trina, Kym Rae, west coast rap icon E-40, rappers The YoungBloodz and also rap artist Petey Pablo; the newly signed 'inmate' to Suge Knights Death Row Records.

The album has a little bit of something for everyone.

Also featured on the album are a few 'skit' which feature out takes from an interview Renegade Foxxx did back in December with a web site writer – Robert of www.ThugLifeArmy.com and www.TLA-PROnline.com. Robert is also a contributing writer and staff member at www.RapNews.net.

The skits allow you to see that Foxxx is out to have fun and to enjoy what he is doing.

Playing the dual role of hip-hop rap artist and CEO of Still Hustlin Records is a demanding position and when he can, Foxxx is all about having fun, enjoying life and being real.

Make sure you take a look at this album and experience for yourself why the bible of hip-hop, The Source, calls Renegade Foxxx the 'next biggest name in hip-hop'.

Album available in stores and online May17th.
