West Coast Compton rap artist Lil Eazy-E, oldest son of the legendary west coast gangsta rap icon Eric 'Eazy-E' Wright, will drop his debut album on Virgin Records – 'The Prince of Compton' this summer.

Much is being said of Lil Eazy-E and it is not all hype. The tracks he has dropped from the first officially released single off the album 'Prince of Compton' - 'Gangsta Shit' or 'They Know Me', to the track from Lil Eazy-E on the 'Eazy-E – Gangsta Memorial Edition' CD/DVD that was released recently; he is getting noticed and the reception is reminiscent of his 'pop's'. "WE WANT LIL EAZY-E" is what the streets are saying.

Lil Eazy-E did a track titled 'A Lil Eazier Said' dedicated to his father on the 'Eazy-E – Gangsta Memorial Edition' CD. On the track Lil Eazy E does a great tribute to his father; the Godfather of Gangsta Rap and founder of Ruthless Records – Eric 'Eazy-E' Wright.

You can read an interview ThugLifeArmy.com did with Lil Eazy-E HERE and see what he has to say about his father, and the upcoming album.

Lil Eazy-E's Kings of L.A. Entertainment Official website has come on line. You will find the latest news and exclusives on Lil Eazy-E and keep up with the entire goings on with the 'Prince of Compton'.
