T-Weaponz, Brooklyn's trio of "Rebel Ricans", is back with a new single entitled "Who Want What"! Radio stations across the country will receive the single this week, and T-Weaponz has made it available for you to hear now!

Following the international success of their spanglish "Mira Mira" remix which features Miami rap artist Pitbull and Reggaeton sensation Notch, "Who Want What" brings another stellar collaboration to fans everywhere. T-Weaponz innovative style brings together flavors of Hip Hop, Reggaeton and R&B, as producer Latin lends an electric twist to the beat, and T-Weaponz is joined by songstress Noelle, who is best known for her work with Los Angeles Heavy Hitter DJ Felli Fel.

Over the past year, T-Weaponz" popularity has grown immensely on the West Coast, as well as in Europe, South America, and Japan - a very unique situation for up and coming East Coast emcees. The group is preparing to release their full length album this summer, tentatively entitled Survival, and they have a series of shows coming up in Mexico and Texas. Dates are as follows:
